Lesson Agreement

- Students must remember their books and lesson time each week.
- Piano students must have a four or more octave keyboard or acoustic piano at home to practice daily.
- All students must commit to regular practice and come to each lesson prepared.
- If a student forgets books, attends unprepared, or does not show up for a lesson— parents will still be charged the fee for that lesson.
- The only excused reason to miss a lesson will be an excused absence from school because of sickness. (does not include off-campus appointments of any kind).
- Class tests, class field trips or any other school related reason for not attending a lesson at the scheduled time must be made up that day or during that week at the instructor's availability.
- There will be no fee charged if the instructor is unable to make a regularly scheduled lesson time and cannot reschedule during that same week.
- Parents and students must agree to an "all year" commitment, meaning that if a student needs to quit lessons during the school year (for any reason) the parents are responsible to pay the remaining lesson fees for the rest of the school year.
- All students are expected to perform in the Spring Recital (Date and time TBD).
